NOVEMBER

Outstanding press quote from Tim Atkin about the Sauvignon Blanc Single Vineyard Aconcagua Costa 2009. "I reckon this is the best Sauvignon I've ever had from Chile. A cross between a Sancerre and a Kiwi Awaterre Valley style, but with a character that's all its own. Hugely complex stuff", 93 points.

KAI 2006 conquers New York. The elegant Mandarin Oriental Hotel with its fantastic view of the Central Park, was the perfect setting for this year's version of The Berlin Tasting. The outcome was a big surprise, with KAI 2006 chosen for top honours, the best wine of the tasting, which is not only an enormous success for Chile but also for the country's unique, emblematic variety, Carmenère.

The KAI aftershock! After the success in the last edition of The Berlin Tasting in New York a big coverage was displayed around the world.
